SUMMIT

NEWS LETTER

The very first stage of formal education for every kid is provided in kindergarten. Kindergarten provides the basic building blocks of physical, social, and emotional development. For children, it can be a big change from the comfort of home to an unfamiliar place with new rules and people. In order to help them adjust, we had special activities that could divert the child's mind and also keep them entertained. The teacher had the kindergartners take a tour of the school. The first day was usually spent teaching the children what they can expect during their time at school.

This includes learning how to share, taking turns, waiting for others to finish their work, and how to use appropriate language. Teachers had set up stations with different toys and games so students can start interacting with one another right off the bat. In MPS Kids along with their parents came to school with full of anticipation, enthusiasm, a little bit of trepidation, and quite often, lots and lots of energy.

MPS wants each and every kid to have their skill developed from every aspect. We do focus on education, but students also need to focus on their personal talents apart from education, and here in MPS we ensure that equal opportunity is given to all. Every Saturday co-curricular activities and many competitions are held to motivate and bring the students' inner talent. These activities are conducted house-wise. We had Rangoli and singing competition. Girls and boys participated with great zeal in the Rangoli competition. MPS was decorated with an aesthetic look by all the Rangoli of our students. We also had many students participate in the singing competition. We had our Primary teachers as Judges to evaluate the participants. It was healthy competition for students from Grade IX-XII.

Tamil New Year Celebrations

The most interesting part about Tamil New Year is that the new year falls almost on the same day every year in the Gregorian calendar. People greet each other by saying, 'Puthandu Nalvazthukal' to each on this day, which translates to Happy New Year. Tamil people believe that the beginning of the new year brings new hopes and dreams. They honor the day with family and friends and enjoy a great feast with high pomp and excitement. MPS also celebrated the Tamil new year in a very dignified manner. Our audacious and limpid students gave a mind-blowing performance. Students participated in traditional dance, and sang songs. A mesmerizing skit and debate were also staged by our enthusiastic students. These events were conducted to encourage our young students and to keep the lamp of all celebrations shine always throughout generations.
